

RESOURCES FOR FACULTY

» BECOME A FACULTY EXPERT

Affiliation with Poverty Solutions at the University of Michigan is available to U-M faculty on all campuses who:

- have an active appointment in a U-M department
- a track record of poverty-related research

As a faculty expert, we may reach out to you with opportunities to get involved via grant and funding opportunities, faculty events, media outreach, and/or expert testimony to policymakers.

» SUBMIT

Submit a working paper or policy brief that address poverty or poverty alleviation from a variety of disciplines and approaches. The working papers will be published on the Poverty Solutions website on a rolling basis, providing a vehicle for U-M faculty to rapidly disseminate their research. We welcome any papers that are ready for public attention, and offer the following services:

- Review and copyediting prior to posting
- Facilitation of an informal peer review by another U-M faculty member (papers will be returned to author prior to posting)

Interested faculty are invited to send working papers and policy briefs or contact us with questions at povertysolutions@umich.edu.

To view past working papers, visit the publications section here.

» GRANT OPPORTUNITIES

Visit our open requests for proposals.

If the grant round is closed, please contact us about potential partnerships and funding opportunities at povertysolutions@umich.edu.

» ATTEND AN EVENT

Visit our events page for ongoing announcements.
